

Sector Labour Market Information (LMI)

National Series of Online Events 2025

The following online sessions will be delivered by SDS from January 2025 through to May 2025
(all sessions will run from 3.45pm – 4.45pm)

Construction & the Built Environment	There is growing demand for new talent to join the construction sector across many roles. The sector will be central to the move to a net zero economy and many new job opportunities and existing roles will change. This session will cover the big picture, numbers, challenges, and some opportunities too. We will also spotlight a few professional roles within the sector.
Life & Chemical Sciences	This session will provide an overview of the key drivers and opportunities for the Life and Chemical Sciences sector in Scotland and what this means for the skills requirements now and in the future. We will also explore sectoral investment and skills interventions throughout Scotland.
Tourism & Hospitality	This session will provide an overview of the skills challenges and opportunities facing the tourism and hospitality sector, key labour market information and entry routes into work in the sector. It will include information on the work of agencies supporting young people into work in the sector and provide a perspective from industry representatives.
Financial Services	The Changing Jobs & Skills in Financial Services: This session will cover emerging opportunities in new technologies which will support growth in the Scottish Financial Services and fintech sectors. During the session you will hear about how skills in Artificial Intelligence, Blockchain, Data and Cyber Security will drive innovation and the growth of highly skilled jobs. It will explore labour market intelligence, outline the current strategic direction, and provide an opportunity to hear from industry partners who are working with SDS to engage young people in schools.
